UCSF Vascular Symposium 2008

The Omni Hotel
San Francisco, CA

April 10-12, 2008

This year the Symposium will continue a format that encourages the interaction between participants and speakers. As in past Symposia, recent advances in vascular therapies will be reviewed and their application in various vascular beds examined with respect to durability and cost. This will include the endovascular treatment of arch, thoracic and abdominal aortic aneurysms, innovations in dialysis access, and the treatment of both venous disease and occlusive lesions affecting the lower limbs. This year the review of cerebrovascular disease will use a case presentation format to provide an in-depth examination of the advantages and disadvantages of endarterectomy and stenting for carotid disease. Challenging case presentations also will be included in other sessions to provide a framework for discussions of the various approaches to the problems that confront the practicing Vascular Specialist. The program includes breakout sessions to provide a small group format for discussions with our invited experts and the opportunity for hands-on experience with the devices reviewed during the course.

ACCREDITATION

The University of California, San Francisco School of Medicine (UCSF) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

UCSF designates this educational activity for a maximum of 16 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physician should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

This CME activity meets the requirements under California Assembly Bill 1195, continuing education and cultural and linguistic competency.

For the purpose of recertification, the American Nurses Credentialing Center accepts AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ issued by organizations accredited by the ACCME.

AAPA accepts category 1 credit from AOACCME, Prescribed credit from AAFP, and AMA PRA category 1 credit™ from organizations accredited by the ACCME.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this symposium, participants should be able to:

- Discuss current treatment alternatives, surgical and endovascular, for patients with vascular diseases involving the carotid, aorta, and infrainguinal arteries
- Delineate the pros and cons of endovascular aneurysm repair of both abdominal and thoracic aneurysms and the most current advances, devices, and techniques in this rapidly evolving field
- Develop an endovascular approach for all aortic aneurysms including pararenal and thoroaco-abdominal aneurysms
- Review the current status of carotid stenting and become familiar with the maneuvers, techniques and devices that are employed in this procedure
- Review the techniques and results of surgical and endovascular options for lower extremity revascularizations and limb salvage
- Describe advanced techniques for creating and maintaining the patency of arterio-venous fistulas for hemodialysis
- Plan the optimum strategy for treating acute and chronic venous thrombosis and the late sequella of venous disease

GENERAL INFORMATION

Pre-registration is preferred to ensure that registrants receive a syllabus and CME Certificate at the course.
