PCDH19 FEMALE EPILEPSY
PROFESSIONAL & FAMILY SYMPOSIUM

PCDH19 Pediatric Epilepsy Professional and Family Symposium

UCSF Laurel Heights
Conference Center
San Francisco, California

September 6-7, 2014

An expert panel of leading researchers and clinicians will discuss the latest research on the diagnostic and therapeutic management of PCDH19 Female Epilepsy. This course is appropriate for, and designed to foster dialogue among Pediatric Neurologists, Pediatric Epileptologists and Pediatric Neurology RNs and NPs. In addition to providers who provide direct care for patients in routine clinical visits and in emergent situations, researchers, genetic counselors and families affected by PCDH19 will also benefit from this course.

A "GREENER" MEETING

We're saving paper! The syllabus and course handouts will be available online one to two weeks prior to the course. You have the option to purchase a printed syllabus for an additional $15.

OBJECTIVES

The purpose of this course is to improve skills and share strategies for early diagnosis and optimal treatment of PCDH19 epilepsy. Upon completion of this course participants will be able to:

- apply seizure management strategies to achieve best long term patient outcomes;
- appropriately include PCDH19 as a potential etiology for a patient's epilepsy;
- avoid excessive medication in the treatment of PCDH19;
- connect families affected with PCDH19 - related epilepsy to genetic counseling services for families.

ACCREDITATION

The University of California, San Francisco School of Medicine (UCSF) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

UCSF designates this live activity for a maximum of 9.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
